

2017. 12.1 fri
14:00-17:00

Beyond The Edge of Research

Venue:

1st Floor, Frontier Research Institute for Interdisciplinary Sciences
<http://www.fris.tohoku.ac.jp/fris/english/index.html>

FRIS will hold a seminar this December at Tohoku University to introduce the programmes of the Tohoku Forum for Creativity and the Lorentz Center in the Netherlands and encourage researchers to take advantage of the resources and support offered by the two institutes.

The event is free and open to all students and staff. Researchers looking to expand their international network, or international collaboration opportunities, are especially encouraged to take part. Registration is not required.

Lorentz Center (Leiden, Netherland) Director Dr. Arjen Doelman
“Stimulating Open Scientific Interactions:
The Lorentz Center Approach”

The Lorentz Center is based in Leiden, and provides international workshops in all scientific disciplines. Workshops can be proposed and organised by any researcher in any field, at any professional level and from any country.

Tohoku Forum for Creativity (Sendai, Japan) Vice Director Dr. Yoshiaki Maeda
“Tohoku Forum for Creativity: Mission and Activities”

The Tohoku Forum for Creativity (TFC) is an international visitor research institute set up in 2013 to facilitate collaborative research.